+ FBIS is distributing extensive materials on the public statements of Andropov. The Analysis Group distributed a collation of key Andropov statements directly to about a dozen Intelligence Community recipients, and produced a Special Memorandum entitled, "Andropov on Major International Issues: The Public Record." In addition, the Production Group and the Joint Publications Research Service are issuing a collection of major speeches and articles by Andropov including some unique material from a collection of untranslated Andropov speeches first published by the Soviets in 1979. + Beginning the evening of 10 November, when program changes on Moscow television and radio indicated a top-level Soviet official had died, the FBIS Wire Service was in touch by phone with major watch centers, including the White House Situation Room and State Operations. At 0251 on 11 November FBIS initiated a CRITIC citing a Japanese press agency report quoting communist diplomats to the effect that Brezhnev had died, after confirming with OCPAS that this was the first solid report on Brezhnev's death. Three followup CRITICS were filed based on official announcements from Radio Moscow and TASS. The White House Situation Room told FBIS that its reports were "invaluable." FBIS initiated another CRITIC early on 12 November when a Yugoslav TANJUG report was confirmed as the first report of Andropov's appointment. []
